"Little Trixie" at the Park To-Day. The attraction at the Park Theater the rest of the week, commencing with today's matinee, will be the talented little soubrette, May Smith Robbins, who played a successful engagement here early in the season. She has just finished a profitable tour of the large Eastern cities, and the critics everywhere have praised her for her bright ways, sparkling humor, versatility and powers of pleasing her audiences. She always has a strong supporting company, and as the play of "Little Trixie" is popular the Park will probably be filled during ances. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wayne will be at the Park all of next week in two new

One of the latest surprises in the theatrical world is the partnership entered into by Camille D'Arville, the prima donna, and Mrs. J. T. The forthcoming engagement of Mr. and Mrs. Kendal at the Grand Opera House for three nights, beginning Monday, May will be a special event, inasmuch as these artists will be seen for the last time in this city. The programme for the fare-well engagement will be. Monday and Tuesday evenings, Pinero's celebrated play, "The Second Mrs. Tanqueray," and Wednesday night "The Ironmaster."

Some one inquires whether Miss Kathryn Staley, of Frankfort, is the woman referred to in the following from a New York paper; "Miss Kathryn Staley, whose literary work has attracted attention, has revealed another talent, that of dancing. Miss Kate Staley, of Frankfort, has been engaged in meritorious work, but if she has been learning to do the Greek dance it is news here.

THOROUGH INVESTIGATION REQUESTED.

A BOLD ASSERTION.

Ever since Prof. Koch startled the world promising to cure consumption with the Koch lymph and his complete failure to do so, the people have been looking for some discovery which would prove an absolute, certain cure for that dread disease. Over a quarter of a century ago Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, put in a claim for a medicine, which he had discovered and used, in his extensive practice, that would cure ninety-eight per cent. of all cases of consumption when taken in all its early stages. Time has proved that his assertion was based on facts gained from experience. His "Golden Medical Discovery "has cured many thousand people in all parts of the world, and Dr. Pierce invites all interested to send to him for a free book which gives the names, addresses and photographs of many prominent people who have willingly testified to the marvelous curative proper-ties of his "Golden Medical Discovery," He has also written a Book of 160 pages on "Diseases of the Respiratory Organs," which treats of all Throat, Bronchial and Lung diseases, also Asthma and Catarrh, that will be mailed by the World's Dispensary Medical Association of Buffalo, N.Y., on receipt of six cents in stamps, to pay postage.

Consumption, as most everybody knows, is first manifested by feeble vitality, loss of strength, emaciation; then local symptoms soon develop, as cough, difficult breathing, or bleeding from lungs, when investigation proves that tubercular deposits have formed in the lungs. It is earnestly advised that the "Discovery" be taken early and the latter stages of the lisease can thereby be easily avoided.

To build up solid flesh and strength after the grip, pneumonia, ("lung fever"), exhausting fevers, and other prostrating diseases, it has no equal. It does not make fat like cod liver oil and its nasty compounds, out, solid, wholesome flesh.

FUNERAL OF MR. PAINE.

of town, this evening.

His Body Taken to Cincinnati for Cremation-Press Club Memorial.

Short funeral services were held over the body of Dan L. Paine in Flanner & Buchanan's chapel, on North Illinois street, yesterday morning, at 9:30. During the morning a large number of friends called at the chapel to pay their last tributes of respect. The services consisted of brief remarks by Rev. N. A. Hyde and prayer by the Rev. D. R. Lucas. At 11:20 the body, accompanied by a committeee appointed by the Press Club, was taken to Cincinnati to be cremated.

The following memorial has been spread on the Press Club minutes: "Daniel L. Paine, one of the two active life members of the Indianapolis Press Club, iled at St. Vincent's Hospital, at 10 o'clock Monday night, May 6, 1895. He was born in Maine, Oct. 18, 1830, and had lived in indianapolis since 1860. His entire life has been identified with the 'art preservative,' either as 'copy' setter or 'copy' maker. His first employment in this city, when he came within the knowledge of the older menibers of the press in Indianapolis, was as a compositor. He was capable of doing more than the work at which he earned his bread. His fitness led to his employment in editorial work and this became his occupation so long as he was able to work. For twenty years he was critical editorial writer for the Indianapolis News. Notwithstanding his more of less exacting duties he found time to express his love of nature and to cultivate the arts. Five years ago progressive paralysis warned him and his friends that death had laid hold upon him and would not release the grasp. Through hose years he was patient, cheerful, ready for life or death, and lamenting only that he could not be so useful as in former lays. However, he did not cease to work. Chable to walk or leave his room he yet held his friends in tender memory by correspondence by the occasional appearance of verses in the public prints. "The distinguishing traits of Mr. Palne's character were affection, fidelity and buoyancy. He had a wonderful capacity for friendships. He was faithful in every obligation. His hope and cheer were boundless All his life he sought intuitively the worthiest things. Although without the systematic training of schools he sought the best that has been said and done in the world. He was sensitive to the best expressions of literature, music and the graphic arts. He was not an intrusive or dogmatic critic, but when appealed to he would give pointed and helpful suggestions. Many of the younger men in our profession and beginners in literature here and elsewhere profited by his advice. "Our friend was kindly, even benignant. He carried the sunshine with him and if, as he persuaded others in their distress and doubt to look forward hopefully, he followed the same precept in his own life. Even the shadow of death, which clouded his later years, could not diminish the inner sunshine, which he ever reflected to brightn the way for others. His ambitions were for others rather than for himself. Modest and simple in a remarkable degree he de-lighted in the achievements of his friends. It is not the lot of many so nearly to approach perfection. He looked always up and not down, forward not back, lending a hand to his fellows, and diffusing light in many a darkened place." The body of Mr. Paine was reduced ashes at the Cincinnati Crematory on Clifton Hills. The Press Club escort was met at the station by a funeral director with a hearse and the crematory officials, and was driven in carriages to the crematory. The casket was placed upon an iron platform on wheels and was rolled into an inclosure resembling a vault. The heat was allowed in the vault and through a window in the rear the first stages of combustion ould be seen. The casket was burned away disclosing the human form wrapped in the charred alum paper which, dampened, had been pressed about the body. The heat was intense enough to cause a gaseous dissipation of the body without the flame touching it. The process required three hours. The ashes will be forwarded to this city today. Of the press committee and others in the escort, Mr. J. P. Dunn and J. Oscar Harding returned last night.

Senator Voorhees is expected to arrive in town to-day on his way home. FRENZEL AND THE GERMANS. Better Representative German Wanted on Manual School Programme.

Albert Metzger, who is looked upon as a leader in this city among the Germans, has created somewhat of a sensation by coming out in an interview strongly onposing John P. Frenzel and declaring that Mr. Frenzel is not a representative German and cannot be expected to receive the support of the German people in this city. These expressions were called forth by a conversation in regard to the coming School Board election. He said he firmly believed that the coming election would complete the work begun last June, of overthrowing the present majority and placing the business of managing the schools in the hands of persons who would attend to it for the interest of the people instead of for the interest of a few. Mr. Metzger is quoted as saying, when asked the attitude of the German element toward Mr. Frenzel: "Well, you can judge a man's friends by the way they flock to his support when he is in trouble. If ever John Frenzel needed friends it was during the School Board investigation. At that time did you hear of Mr. Vonnegut, or Mr. Lieber, or Mr. Bohm or any other of the solid Ger-man element saying a good word for him? I

In regard to the cry that the Manua

Training School is due to the presistent efforts of Mr. Frenzel, Mr. Metzger explained that Otto Stechhan was the man that secured the passage of the bill by the Legislature and that the records of the German Manual Training School will show that a vote of thanks was given Mr. Stechhan for his work, while Mr. Frenzel was not mentioned because he had done nothing. "A committee was afterwards appointed."
Mr. Metzger is further quoted, composed of A. R. Baker, E. L. Williams and Mr. Frenzel, from the School Board, Superintendent Jones and myself to visit manual training schools over the country for the purpose of investigation. Every member of that committee attended those trips except Mr. Frenzel, who never took a whit of interest in the project. But he talked loud all the time. When Messrs. Baker, Williams and Jones were no longer connected with the board, Mr. Frenzel was enabled better to throw himself forward and to make it appear as if he were the central figure. I think that Superintendent Jones would very gladly tell you how much of a part Mr. Frenzel played. He has had almost nothing to do with it.

The leading Germans, Mr. Mtezger said, do not approve of the selection by the School Board of Mr. Frenzel to represent them it the dedication of the school. He said that as soon as it was announced that such would be the programme the German citizens went to the School Board committee and asked that a man who would be a true representative of them be placed on the programme and at last succeeded in getting Mr. Stechhan's name on it. When asked who Mr. Frenzel would represent, he "Himself, I suppose. He seems to be isolated.' Mr. Metzger also stated that the property that James Cruse is now trying to sell to the School Board at corner of Home avenue and New Jersey street is owned by the Indiana Trust Company, and that the price asked is $100 a front foot. THE TEACHERS INDIGNANT.

They Do Not Want to March in Streets on Decoration Day.

There is a great deal of indignation among the teachers of the city schools over the resolution adopted by the School Board at its last meeting requiring them to muster the children on Decoration day and march to the Statehouse. The offensive resolution was introduced last Friday night by Commissioner Russe. It was adopted by a unanimous vote of the board.

The resolution was as follows: "Resolved, That on Memorial day, May 30, all school children be assembled in their respective school rooms, and with their teachers they shall proceed to the Statehouse grounds, where they will take positions in column on the terrace facing Capitol avenue and Ohio street for the purpose of reviewing the procession of veterans of the late war; that each school be furnished a flag to be carried in front of the school. and that for this purpose an appropriation of $50 is hereby made; that the further details and order of exercises be referred to the superintendent of the city schools with directions to make the necessary arrangements therefor." The teachers say that the order is an unjust one, and that it is unreasonable on the part of the board to make such a request. A great many of the teachers have openly protested against marching through the streets, and it is understood that some of them may refuse to turn out. The same trouble occurred when the Liberty bell was brought here two years ago. The teachers sent a petition to the board protesting against the order, and asked to be released from the distasteful duty. The board refused to entertain the petition and some of the teachers did not march.

STATEHOUSE FIGHT AGAIN.

Representative Allen, of Daviess County, Before the Grand Jury.

Representative Josiah Alien, of Daviess county, came to Indianapolis Tuesday, in response to a summons issued by the Marion county grand jury. Yesterday Mr. Allen was closeted with the jury for several hours. He was examined closely concerning the Statehouse trouble on the night | June 4. of the Legislature's adjournment and told the jury all he knew about it. Representative Allen was on the elevator where Secretary Myron King and Custodian Tim Griffin were passengers and witnessed the trouble in that quarter. It is now believed that the grand jury will not return indict-ments against those reputed to have been involved in the muss. A large number of witnesses have been examined, but thus far the jury has found no one who would testify that an assault was made upon either King or Griffin. Several other witnesses have been summoned to appear before the jury and tell what they know about the trouble.

Minnie Miner Arrested.

Minnie Miner, a woman who was found to be keeping rooms for immoral purposes, was arrested yesterday by sergeants Hyland and Crane. Superintendent Powell had closed a house formerly run by the woman, and it is probable that she will now be given a workhouse sentence. P. S. Sims and Clara Thomas, who were found in one of the rooms Tuesday night, were fined in the Police Court yesterday and promised to return to their homes in Cincinnati. Both have families in that city and are well connected.

BRUNING'S PAST LIFE

DEFENSE'S ATTEMPT TO SHOW THAT HE WAS CRUEL TO HIS MOTHER.

Progress of the Copeland Case in the Criminal Court-A Letter in Evidence.

An effort was made in the Copeland trial resterday to show that William H. Bruning. who was shot by his brother-in-law, was a man of vicious disposition. Copeland's attorneys tried to show that Bruning was cruel to his mother before her death and indifferent to his sister, Mrs. Copeland. To each of the questions bearing on this line of testimony Bruning gave negative answers. He was on cross-examination most of the day.

Yesterday morning J. S. Duncan, for the prosecution, asked Bruning to again relate the incidents which transpired on his visit to his sister at Madison shortly after she had been with him in New York. He detailed fully the occurrence. When he arrived at Madison he found the doors of his sister's home locked and climbed in at the window. He went directly to Mrs. Copeland's room, but she declined to admit him. She warned him that if he attempted to enter the room she would shoot herself. Argument he found futile and he went away. Later in the day he returned to the house and found Copeland there. The latter was very angry and ordered him to leave the premises. Copeland accused him of robbing his sister (Mrs. Copeland), and Bruning called the husband a liar. Copeland said he would not forget that and would settle with him some day. Bruning then left the house and never returned.

"Is it not a fact?" asked attorney Spaan on cross-examination, "that once in 1883, when you were trying to fix up a realestate trade, that you pushed your mother against the wall and pinched her arm until she submitted to your dictation?"
"No, it is not a fact," answered Bruning. 'Nothing of the kind ever happened in our family.

The defense attempted to introduce a letter bearing on the alleged mistreatment of the mother by the witness. The letter was found among Mrs. Bruning's effects after her death. The envelope bore the postmark Evansville, where it had been mailed, and the address "Mrs. J. F. Bruning. There was nothing at the I letter to show to whom it had been written. Bruning's name was at the bottom. He was taking some one to task about lax methods of attending to business. In one place it read: "A little more of such smartness will drive off the little business you have and perhaps send you to the poorhouse." Copeland's attorneys said that the letter had undoubtedly been written by Bruning to his mother. One paragraph apparently referred to Bruning's sister, who afterward became Mrs. Copeland. It read: "I was somewhat astonished the other day at being told on the street that the girl had gone out West again. I don't care anything about it, but it is a little bit humiliating to be told twice about something that your family is doing. I think, however, we can arrange it so we can each have our own way." The prosecution objected to the introduction of the letter. Acting Judge Browder read it carefully and decided that it could not be properly admitted. On cross-examination Bruning de tailed the various real-estate suits in which the family had been involved and told the story of the shooting in the office of Miller, Winter & Elam. Attorney Corbaley, of Madison, testified to having drawn up the will of John F. Bruning, father of Mrs. Copeland and William Bruning. Attorney Corbaley was present at the office of Miller, Winter & Elam when Copeland shot Bruning, and testified to the incidents attending the shooting.

THE GOVERNOR'S SOUTHERN TRIP. It Will Be a Swing Around the Circle -The Silver Movement.

Capt. D. F. Allen was in town yesterday, and it is believed he is arranging for a trip through the South for Governor Matthews in September. It is said to be a sort of swing around the circle, in which the Governor will get acquainted with a numof prominent Southern Democratic leaders, and will start the national ball rolling for the empty honors of a presidential nomination next year. Incidentally Captain Allen will let Speaker Crisp and other Southern leaders who are sighing for a "Western man with a military record" know that Indiana's Governor is not without a military record, since Roby was suppressed at the point of the bayonet last year. The Governor will visit the Cotton Exposition, and might be induced, his friends expect, to make a few speeches. He is believed to be posting up on the money question. Captain Allen is the Governor's close friend and political adviser, and has recently returned from a Southern trip, in which he did not allow a single opportunity to escape him to sound the praises of his chieftain. Governor Matthews is watching very closely for the outcome of the Illinois convention. A prominent Democrat said yesterday that it depends on the result there whether Indiana Democrats have a silver convention in Indiana. If the thing does not fall flat, but seems to promise a banner around which to raily the heart-sick Democracy, a convention will be called here and the party will have a squall, with Matthews on one side and Nye on the other in a fight for and against silver mono-

The board decided that the charges were of a trivial nature and that the three days that McDonald has been suspended pending in-vestigation was sufficient punishment.

The baby show progressed yesterday without incident except that one infant choked for a time in an effort to put a rubber rattle down his throat, and another fell from his high chair, causing an ugly bruise and filling the hall with cries. Father Lapore Found Guilty of Violating Church Laws.

DENVER, Coi., May 8.-Bishop Matz has deposed Rev. Father Mariano Lapore, pastor of Mt. Carmel Church in this city, who was found guilty by an ecclesiastical court of undue familiarity with women of his parish, dishonesty in polities and other conduct unbecoming a representative of the church. At the trial affidavits from citizens of Jersey City, N. J., alleging embezzlement, adultery, gambling, drunkenness and like misdoings on the part of the father while he was in charge of a church in that city were presented. It was shown that he had promulgated a blasphemous revision of the Ten Commandments, in which he exhorted his congregation to a method of living far from being in accord with the teachings of the church. Father Lapore is a young man who arrived in Denver about two years ago. He has never been ordained to the priesthood in America, but was given a temporary appointment here on request of the Italian church, The church property of Mount Carmel is said to be in a deplorable condition on account of Lapore's mismanagement. Lapore claims that the church property is in his own name, and defies the bishop's power to remove him. He will appeal to Rome. He held mass to-day, contrary to the rules of the church.

GIBBONS ON TEMPERANCE.

The Cardinal Suggests High License and Restriction for the Cities.

BALTIMORE, May 8.-Cardinal Gibbons, to-day, in the hall of the Young Men's Christian Association, delivered an address before the Maryland State Temperance Alliance. The large audience included a great many clergymen not of the Cardinal's religious belief. His Eminence began by saying he was very glad to have an opportunity of meeting some of his separated brethren of the clergy on a common platform. "I do not think that prohibition car be seriously considered in our large cities," said the Cardinal. "For prohibition does not prohibit in large communities." The remedial measures suggested by the Cardinal were: High license; restricting the number of saloons in each district or ward; no saloon should be allowed to be opened within a certain proximity to a church or schoolhouse; that the good name of the applicant for a license should be vouched for by reputable citizens; that the sale of liquor should be regulated by judicious legislation; absolute closing of the saloons on the Lord's day. But all legislation, to be effective, must be backed by the moral support of the people.

BOOKSELLERS COMPLAIN.

They Say Department Stores Are Selling Below Cost Price.

NEW YORK, May 8 .- A special meeting of the executive committee of the Newsdealers', Booksellers' and Stationers' National Association was held last night for the purpose of formulating a plan for the protection of the booksellers in the United States against attacks made on them by department storekeepers in regard to the cutting of prices in books. It is contended that storekeepers sell books far below cost price in order to cripple the trade of the regular booksellers. An important feature of the meeting, which was presided over by National President M. Moy, of Pawtucket, R. I., was to draft an appeal, which will be issued in a few days to the entire trade throughout the United States to attend a convention of the national association, which will be held in Brooklyn, on Aug. 13 and 14 next, at which all matters relating to the trade will be fully discussed.

Too Cheap.

New York Commercial Advertiser. Ex-President Harrison was ridiculed when he asserted that people may get manufactured articles too cheaply. A proof of his statement is found in the revelations of the sweat shop investigation. Because of the low prices of many articles of dress manufacturers cannot anord to pay living wages to their employes. Women work nineteen hours a day on necktics and make only 30 cents, but their employers themselves make less than living profits. One employer of a dozen or more women clears about $1 a week for himself.

TWO WOMEN.

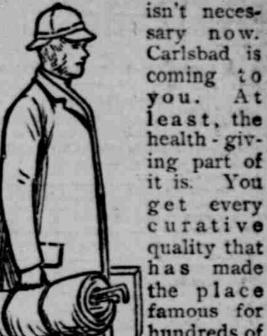

The Contrast Between Hetty Green and Mary A. Livermore.

Chicago Herald. There is Mrs. Hetty Green, She is woman of one sort. Perhaps it would be nore exact to say that she is a woman of her own kind. To be reputed to be the richest woman in America-that's one of her distinctions. And this enormous wealth has undoubtedly given to her certain corresponding advantages. One might fancy her to be one of the happiest women to be found. Maybe she is. But she doesn't appear to be so. In fact, she has made the impression of being one of the least contented and most anxious of mortals. To pay her taxes is a torture. To escape it she is said to live in her satchel and board around. If she has ever tasted the sweetness of a purely unselfish act she has never made much ado about it. Possibly, let us hope it, she is preparing for some regular cloudburst of generosity in the use of her Then there is Mrs. Mary A. Livermore. She is perhaps, as widely known as Mrs. Hetty Green. She and her husband have just celebrated their golden wedding. She is not rich; she is only good. By her philanthrophies during the war, and since the war, by her force of character, her cloquence and her carnestness in all good causes, she has made her name to be revered and loved throughout the Nation. She has hosts of friends, while Hetty clings tightly to her millions; our Saint Marywe call her ours because it was in Chicago years ago that she really began her large and beautiful career of trying to make it harder for all sorts of people to do wrong and easier for them to do righthas kept right on into old age brightening the lives of all about her.
